Title : Contracts You Can't Change: Managing Risk in Contracts with Local Governments

Speaker : Kenton Andrews w/ Andrews Myers

Kenton Andrews is Senior Counsel and Construction Lawyer with Andrews Myers PC, a Texas-based business law firm. Mr. Andrews practice focuses on dispute resolution, contract negotiation and litigation of construction related issues. He has significant experience representing clients interests dealing with commercial, industrial and government projects including procurement issues, bid protests and administrative appeals in the public sector. He has worked with many general contractor clients to help protect their contractual rights and interests during an "on the job" dispute with the project's owner. In addition to his construction practice, Kenton also routinely represents clients' interests in other commercial related disputes arising from company agreements, employment issues, and real estate transactions. Mr. Andrews is a 2005 graduate of University of Tennessee at Knoxville and received his J.D. from the South Texas College of Law, Houston, Texas. He has been voted a "Texas Rising Star", as presented by Super Lawyers, a Thomson Reuters Business, in Texas Monthly, 2015 to Present.

ABSTRACT : Contracts cannot always be changed, but they can be managed to limit the risk of unfavorable provisions. Learn what you can do from the office and in the field to help your company
